

TEMPro

(TE MINI PROJECT)

20th feb(MIT) 21st feb (NON MIT)

INTRODUCTION

For all third year students, TEXEPHYR provides you a platform to demonstrate your talent. The competition aims at bringing out the 'techie' in you. The competition witnesses projects covering various arenas ranging from Network and Communication, Databases, Web Application and Mobile Application. It provides hand-on experience for industrial projects and also allows the aspiring engineers to explore new ideas. The contest being judged by highly qualified faculty members and industrial experts gives students a rare chance for open interaction with the industrial expertise. So grab this excellent opportunity to nurture and enhance your talent!
